

Working the Press.

CARSON, Nev., Sept. 12, 1892.
Weihauser & Buschland, Beer Manufacturers, San Francisco, Cal.:—GENTLEMEN: We have just received a barrel of beer from you which is no good. It is about to sour and our customers won't drink it. Shall we return the beer?
McGinnis & Murphy.

The following was received by wire:

S. F., Oct. 12, 1892.

McGinnis & Murphy:—Give the beer to some newspaper with compliments of the firm. Cut out notice and send by next mail.

Weihauser & Buschland.

Extract from Carson newspaper of next day:

"This office acknowledges the receipt of a keg of beer from the well known firm of Weihauser & Buschland, the leading beer manufacturers of the United States.

"Their motto is to make good beer at whatever cost, and the beer they turn out is nectar fit for the gods, as the beer experts in our composing room can testify. No wonder this beer is cutting such a wide swath and cleaving its way into popularity with judges of what good beer ought to be."

Nye County Democrats Disband.

The Democratic Convention of Nye county, which met last week, resolved as follows:

Whereas, The people of this State can expect no relief from either the Democratic or Republican parties, but must look to the People's party; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Democratic party of Nye county, Nevada, be and the same is hereby disorganized, and that we favor the principles of the National People's party as expounded in their convention held at Omaha on July 4, 1892, and pledge ourselves to support the nominees of said party.

It was moved and carried that after paying all expenses that the balance be handed over to the Belmont Courier.

Moved and carried that the flag formerly owned by the Democratic party be donated to the county seat and become the property of Nye county for the use of the Court House.

Moved and carried that the Democratic Convention of Nye county, Nevada, for 1892, adjourn sine die.

Benton's Liniment.

Which has been used in Carson for over twenty-five years, has saved many an ache and pain to those who know it. It is really intended for horses but works with the same magical effect on the human. It is a powerful remedy and for rheumatism is the king of the world. Aches knocked out in short order. No horseman should be without a bottle.

Benton's Liniment for sale at all drug stores.

A GRIZZLY BEAR ESCAPES

And Claws a Man to Death.

THE MAYBRICK MURDER CASE REVIVED.

News Items from Various Parts of the Country.

Special to the APPEAL

A Grizzly Bear at Large.

London, October 12—Intense excitement was caused yesterday by an escape of a big grizzly bear from the bear pit of the Zoological Gardens in the afternoon. The garden was full of visitors at the time, many of them women and children. When it was seen that the animal had succeeded in making good his escape the crowd became panic stricken and fled in all directions.

The bear which was a savage one started in pursuit of the flying people. The keeper tried to head him off, but only sacrificed his own life by so doing, for the bear dragged him to the ground, tore open his throat and stomach and left him dying on the ground, while he continued in pursuit of those who were trying to escape.

While running away two of the visitors fell, and before they could get up the bear had reached them and begun clawing savagely at them. In the meantime the alarm had been given, and before the animal had succeeded in killing his new victims, six members of the municipal guard came running to the scene and opened fire on the brute. The third bullet inflicted a fatal wound and the bear fell dead.

Before he was killed he had succeeded in lacerating the two visitors in a frightful way and they are now in a very critical condition, with the chances against their recovery.

The Maybrick Case.

London, October 12.—In the next issue of the Review of Reviews, Stead, its editor, will have an article headed, "Ought Mrs. Maybrick to Be Tortured to Death?" in which he reopens the whole case of the unfortunate American woman now undergoing the sentence of life imprisonment for the alleged poisoning of her husband.

Stead says both he and Sir Charles Russell, the Attorney-General, have received from South America copies of the death-bed confession of Harry Wilson, who declared that he, with a woman, whose name is not given, placed arsenic in the medicine administered to Maybrick during his last illness.

Death of Lieutenant Prochaska.

Washington, D. C., October 12.—The Navy Department received notice this morning of the death of Lieutenant Julius Prochaska of the United States Marine Corps at the naval hospital at Brooklyn. He was stricken with typhoid fever while on duty at Camp Erbin, an outpost of Camp Low, Sandy Hook, N. J., two weeks ago. He was appointed to the Naval Academy from Wisconsin September 7, 1885.

Took a Tumble.

New York, Oct. 12—Martin Haster 47 years old and Charles Witter 50 years old while watching Columbus Parade fell out of the fourth story window in a Domestic Building and fatally injured.

The Czar Escapes Again.

St Petersburg, Oct. 12—The Czar's train was blown up by dynamite today. Five people killed and fourteen injured. The train was completely wrecked. The Czar escaped miraculously.

An Editor Drowned.

Crescent City, Cal., Oct. 12—John L. Childs Editor of the News, and Republican candidate for County Clerk accidentally drowned in Klamath River today.

From Alaska.

San Francisco, Oct. 12—Coast survey steamer Hassler returned from Alaska today. She encountered a heavy storm but suffered no damage.

TRUE BLUE SCORED.

Shown to be Merely the Apologist of the Ring.

Carson, Oct. 12, 1892.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE APPEAL:—Your outspoken but injudicious correspondent "True Blue" may be genuine or may be not, at any rate his arguments have a familiar sound. If a phonograph was to reproduce the conversation of our stock politicians it would be found to duplicate most of his sentiments.

His illconcealed contempt for the common class of people, is fully matched by expressions I have heard from those who are paid to be the servants of these same people.

The burden of his song is wait, the same old devil lullaby that has been used to smother every effort for reform since the world began. Wait, wait, for what? Wait until our enemies can complete their organization?

Wait until the shackles of the bondholder are firmly riveted to the limbs of our beloved country? Wait until the life blood is drained from our State?

The people say no; now is the time for action. We are tired of pulling (tariff) chestnuts out of the fire, to fatten either of the old parties. We have come to the parting of the ways. We have now to decide which side we shall take.

Shall we fight under the banner with this strange device, "In Gold we Trust" and the faint but legible inscription on the reverse side. The people be it said—Or shall we enroll ourselves under the people's banner, inscribed with this demand: "Give equal rights to both our noble metals?"

The champion of the gold bug banner is John Sherman. The life long friend of the bond holder, the deadly and consistent enemy of silver, he is cordially supported by the leaders of both the old parties. His is the hand that has outlined the financial policy of every administration for the last 25 years. For years he was the undisputed champion of the Senatorial ring. But like the invincible John L. he found his match; our noble Stewart met him and stopped him in every round.

Twice he put him to sleep long enough to send a free coinage bill flying through the Senate, to be lost in the House, for the want of such a hand and head as pushed it through the upper house. If we now send a man to Congress who is his peer in skill, energy and grit, the battle may soon be won. Such a man is now before us and his name is Francis G. Newlands.

Yours Respectfully,

NEVADAN.

Dosen't Draw Water Enough.

Since Newlands went to San Francisco and knocked Mike Hart out in one round, Nevada has rewarded him with a nomination for Congress. Bartine, left in the cold now, proposes to knock Senator Stewart out of his seat.

Neither Bartine nor any other man can do it. Bartine is a good silver man, but he doesn't draw water enough to sail in the same ocean of popularity with brave, honest old Senator Stewart—The Road.

New Trial Denied.

Judge Hubbard has denied the motion for a new trial in the Hale & Norcross case. The Court stated that it believed that Levy was the only director who benefitted by the transactions which resulted in the suit, but that all were guilty of culpable negligence in not protecting the interests of the stockholders.

The special went to Reno in one hour and five minutes last night and returned to Carson in one hour and ten minutes, reaching here at 12.

Commercial Lunch.

There will be served during the Summer a regular commercial lunch at Anderson's lunch counter in Weiland's saloon. It will be a hot lunch with soup, beer, tea, coffee or milk, for 25 cents. It is proposed to make this the best lunch in the city for the money, and will run from 12 to 2 o'clock.

Stewart, the "fottygraffer," is doing the biggest business ever done in his line in this city. He turns out nothing but first class work. *

Weaver and Field Endorsed.

The Republicans have endorsed the Weaver and Field electors in the following Southern States.

Arkansas.
Alabama.
Tennessee.
Kentucky.
North Carolina.
South Carolina.
Georgia.
Florida.

The democrats have endorsed in the following ten States:

Idaho.
Washington.
Nevada.
Montana.
Wyoming.
Colorado.
North Dakota.
South Dakota.
Kansas.
Nebraska.

And yet people say no attention is being paid to Weaver anywhere but in Nevada and Colorado.

A Literary Curiosity.

Several parties in this city have been trying to figure out just what is meant by the article in the News under the head of "Those Virginia Resolutions." It looks as if Thaxter did the literary work and Coffin made the argument.

The following is the gem alluded to and we reprint it exactly as it appears in the columns of our estimable contemporary:

When the Virginia City Republican Convention, in expressing a choice as to presidential candidates then to be nominated, resolved against those who do entirely differ from us. While Harrison and the Republican party are in favor of reaching free coinage in a less direct way not entirely agree with us, they did not resolve in favor of those who perhaps, than we, they are still in favor of an exclusively metallic basis for money, thus keeping up

A suitable reward will be given to anyone making out from the above just how the News stands on the money question.

Funeral of Mrs. Bryan.

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Bryan took place from the Episcopal Church yesterday morning. Rev. Hyslop officiated, and the pall bearers were delegates from the United Order of Workmen, of which the bereaved husband was a member. The coffin was covered with floral offerings, and the Episcopal choir sang the Burial Anthem. The ceremony was concluded at the grave.

The relatives of the deceased desire to thank their neighbors for their kindness, and also the choir and the United Order of Workmen for substantial aid in administering to the wants of the deceased in her last sickness and superintending the burial.

DIED.

In this city, October 12, 1892, Charles A. infant son of James and Edith Atkins, aged 10 months.

Funeral services will be held at the residence of A. P. Dority, today at 2 o'clock p. m.

It is sad to part with those we love, But in the night of death, Hope sees a star, and listening, Love can hear the rustle of a wing.

Bartine in Reno.

Bartine spoke to a small and lifeless audience in Reno on Tuesday evening. He attempted to explain why he had changed front on the silver question, and when someone asked him what bill he had passed in Congress he was unable to reply.

The five coaches composing the special train which went over to the riverside town last night to the big political meeting, were packed full of enthusiastic Weaverites. It is estimated that the train held fully 500 people. When Reno was reached, the crowd headed by the Carson band marched in a body to the Opera House, where standing room was at a premium in short order. Paul Vandervoort and Senator Stewart addressed the meeting, which was one of the biggest ever held in that town.

The Democrats of Elko have the following sensible plank in their platform:

Resolved, That we are in favor of a Constitutional Convention to revise the fundamental law of this State to the end that useless offices may be abolished and idle deputies compelled to earn an honest living.

If your watch is out of order in any way you can get it repaired at Golden's by skilled workmen from the best institutions in Europe. The work turned out in jewelry repairing is always finished in the best style and the assortment of goods has no equal anywhere in Nevada. j4tf.
